

Our Forest School Ethos

Forest school encourages children to make their own decisions, engage in self chosen activities, take risks, develop problem solving strategies and use a variety of tools. We hope the children will enjoy many benefits of this holistic approach to outdoor learning and acquire an impressive range of knowledge, skills and positive attitudes which will benefit all aspects of their lives.

